The High River Times Calls The Call

Under the heading "We Call His Hand" the High River Times relieves
itself as follows:

"In last week's Gleichen Call the editor makes the bold statement that a farmer from near High River declared that groceries were much cheaper in Gleichen than in High River. On the other hand the Times can produce proof that groceries and dry goods can be bought cheaper here than at Gleichen.
We refer the editor of the Call to prices quoted in the Seller-Gillis Ltd. and Morrison & Co. advt. for grocery prices, also T. C. Barrie for dry goods and furnishings. We defy the Call to produce better prices."

On looking up one of the ads. referred to the first item noted was a special ad-of "Rolled oats, 8 lb. sack, 2 for 75c." In Gleichen the ordinary price for these is 70c, and on special a week ago were sold at 25c. per 8-lb. sack or two for 50c.
This fact should draw the Scotch to Gleichen at least. The Times man has defied the Call to show this, and when he calls our hand again he will find Gleichen has a "full house" and we draw from High River farmers.

Financial Conditions Improving

The immense improvement which the bond market has shown in the last few weeks is most encouraging for Western Canada. It will relieve all towns and cities in the west of their debentures which were practically unsaleable for the last eighteen months. Incidentally the banks are relieved from the burden of municipal indebtedness and will have funds to advance to customers. It now seems probable that by next spring
when the development season naturally begins the money market will be comparatively easy and that the stringency which has been so severely felt for nearly two years will be relieved. It is not to be supposed that there will be money available to wipe out all real estate liabilities or to create such activity in realty as existed immediately prior to the financial panic of 1907, but there will be enough for the return of prosperous liquidation of the liabilities created during the boom excitement.

The letter appearing in the last Call written by Mr. N. N. Hayes is the first of series that we hope to print during the next few weeks. Such letters as these will do more real good for this district than the most brilliant pen-artist can hope to accomplish. It was the simple facts of the results of one farmer's experience, without any varnish or picture-words. Mr. Hayes in his own way told how he had this year netted $17.85 per acre from land that cost him
$15 per acre, and with pardonable pride remarks, "Pretty good, I say." Well might he so remark. While Mr. Hayes' letter has attracted a good deal of attention, we believe that a large number of other letters promised The Call for publication will go to show that he is but one of many who have reaped wonderful returns from their farms this year.
The Call extends a hearty invitation to every farmer in this district to write us a similar statement of facts concerning the yields and successes they have made this year. All such letters will be kept on file at this office and we will be pleased to show anyone the originals
upon request.

One of the Scottish Agricultural commissioners said that on these prairies
"It is not farming, but just wheat mining." He must have been among the delegation that visited Gleichen.

The farmers can help boost the Gleichen district better than anyone by simply supplying The Call with a letter stating the results of their labors and their opinions of the best farming methods to adopt here.

The High River people have some very excellent reasons to be jealous of Gleichen, although that town is about 75 miles south of here, and we feel sorry for the enterprising men of that little city. The reason of it all is that the farmer down that way have been coming to Gleichen to sell their grain as Gleichen is offering better prices for grain than High River and from all reports we have better facilities for handling the grain. Then, too, High River farmers say they can buy their merchandise to as good and sometimes better advantage than in High River. The Times would like to argue the point on this subject and we admire the Times man for boosting High River. Nevertheless, the fact remains that the High River farmers arrive here in big bunches, and we have a suspicion they don't come 75 miles for their health's sake.

For the convenience of their clients in and surrounding Gleichen, Messrs.
Short, Ross & Selwood, barristers, of Calgary, have decided to open a branch of their law office at Gleichen, where one member of their firm can be consulted on Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday morning of each week.

AN AMERICAN HERO.

He Used His Own Body to Stop a Leak in a Ferryboat.

One morning in January, when the ice in the Hudson river ran unusually heavy, a Hoboken ferryboat slowly crunched her way through the floating floes until the thickness of the pack choked her paddles in midriver. It was an early morning trip, and the decks were crowded with laboring men and the driveways choked with teams. The women and children standing inside the cabins were a solid mass up to the swinging doors. While she was gathering strength for a further effort an ocean tug sheered to avoid her, veered a point and crashed into her side, cutting her below the water line in a great V shaped gash. A moment more and the disabled boat careened from the shock and fell over on her beam, helpless. Into the V shaped gash the water poured a torrent. It seemed but a question of minutes before she would lunge headlong below the ice.

Within 200 yards of both boats and free of the heavy ice steamed the wrecking tug Reliance of the Off-shore Wrecking company, and on her deck forward stood Captain Scott. When the ocean tug reversed her engines after the collision and backed clear of the shattered wheelhouse of the ferryboat he sprang forward, stooped down, ran his eye along the water line, noted in a flash every shattered plank, climbed into the pilothouse of his own boat and before the astonished pilot could catch his breath pushed the nose of the Reliance along the rail of the ferryboat and dropped upon the latter's deck like a cat.

With a threat to throw overboard any man who stirred he dropped into the engine room, met the engineer halfway up the ladder, compelled him to return, dragged the mattresses from the crew's bunks, stripped off blankets and snatched up clothes, overalls, cotton waste and rags of carpet, cramming them into the great rent left by the tug's cutwater.

It was useless. Little by little the water gained, bursting out first below, then on one side, only to be calked out again and only to rush in once more.

Captain Scott stood a moment as if undecided, ran his eye searchingly over the engine room, saw that for his needs it was empty, then deliberately tore down the top wall calking he had so carefully built up and before the engineer could protest forced his own body into the gap, with his arm outside level with the drifting ice.

An hour later the disabled ferryboat, with every soul on board, was towed into the Hoboken slip.

When they lifted the captain from the wreck he was unconscious, and barely alive. The water had frozen his blood, and the floating ice had torn the flesh from his protruding arm from shoulder to wrist. When the color began to creep back to his cheeks he opened his eyes and said to the doctor who was winding the bandages:

"Wuz any of them babies hurt?"
A month passed before he regained his strength and another week before the arm had healed so that he could get his coat on. Then he went back to the Reliance.—Everybody's Magazine.

A Lesson in Patience.

When the eminent botanist, Professor Altman of Glasgow, was a small boy, he had the present of a silver bit, whereupon his mother was so worried with questions as to what he should do with it that she exclaimed, "Really, you had better go to Thomas Elliot's (a well known pharmacist) and buy sixpence worth of patience."

Down the street marched the lad and demanded of the chemist, "Mr. Elliot, please give me sixpence worth of patience."

Mr. Elliot, taking in the situation at a glance, said: "Certainly, my boy; there's a chair. Just sit down and wait till you get it."

Professor Altman's endeavor to purchase patience was a great success. It made a deep impression on the lad and was one of the factors of his success in life.

Outreasoning Reason.

Little Raymond's mother had told him that she should put him to bed if he disobeyed her command in a certain matter. Temptation overcame him, and when his mother proceeded to fulfill her duty sobs of anguish filled the room.

"But, Raymond," said the mother gently, "I told you I should punish you in this way if you disobeyed, and mother must keep her word, you know."

Between muffled sobs Raymond managed to say, "You needn't break your word, mamma, but couldn't you change your mind?"—Woman's Home Companion.

The Tactful Doctor.

A physician in a small town in northern Michigan got himself into a serious predicament by his inability to remember names and people. One day while making out a patient's receipt his visitor's name escaped him. Not wishing to appear so forgetful and thinking to get a clue, he asked her whether she spelled her name with an "e" or "i." The lady smilingly replied, "Why, doctor, my name is HILL."

Your Enemies.

Don't make enemies unnecessarily. Your friends don't do much for you, as you all know, but your enemies will lie awake nights looking for opportunity to take a shot at you. And you all know that too.

Great Britain has the longest coast line of any country in Europe. Italy, Russia and France come next in the order given.

Looking for a safe investment that will yield from 25 to 50 per cent? Then here is your chance:

¾ Section near Gleichen of which 100 acres is broken, 80 acres having been cropped two years and yielded an excellent crop. This land is all under the ditch and fenced and is an extremely good buy at $35 an acre.

One Section, 4½ miles from Gleichen, which is irrigable, except 72 acres and in good shape for breaking next spring. I will sell this in either halves or quarter sections and at a bargain, the price being only $28 an acre.

¾ Section, on Crowfoot creek, of unimproved land, with creek running through middle of it and coal within ¼ mile of place. This is a chance you seldom get to buy such good property at $15 an acre.

TOWN AND DISTRICT

Sunshine galore.

The Call wants live correspondents at every post office in the district.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Campbell went up to Calgary Sunday to visit their friends.

For the accommodation of their customers the Alberta Stables are being enlarged.

Christmas is just around the corner and the boys and girls are getting their socks mended.

Heard after the leap year ball: Blessed is the chapman who hath eyes that see not and ears that hear not.

Not one engagement has been announced since the leap year ball, yet the boys say "it was a peach".

It is reported work will be started on the new ditch from the Bow river to Rattle Snake lake and south next week.

S. J. Hedges is building a boarding house at Namaka and will also open a butcher shop in that thriving young city.

In order to print a good job or set a good ad, time is required and our customers will do well to bear this in mind.

Now that our farmers are selling their products at good prices The Call is in hopes that many of our subscribers will pay up.

N. N. Hayes' letter has been copied in full by the Calgary and other papers. Come on farmers and give us more like that. It will do you and the country a lot of good.

The Call is now prepared to supply all sizes and rulings for loose leaf ledgers to fit any bindings at Toronto or Montreal prices.

From now until after the New Year The Call will be very busy and to insure publication all changes of address must be in by noon on each Monday.

After a very busy season our Queens-gown correspondent has come to the front again and promises some interesting items from that prosperous district.

A number of the ranchers have been in from the north and express their approval of the advice given landseekers in the Call two weeks ago by "Old Timer".

W. H. Story, who has been surveying the irrigation ditches northeast of town, last week broke up his camp for the winter and is spending a few days in town.

The job department of The Call has been doing a great business lately and we will deem it a favor if our customers will, whenever possible, give us their orders somewhat in advance of their requirements.

The Alberta Pacific Elevator Co. appears to be a fair-minded concern. A couple of their representatives remarked the other day that they would welcome the company to Gleichen who want to build another elevator and stated they believed it would be the very best thing for their company. And they said it in a tone that indicated they meant all they said.

G. Calloun is in from the Circle ranch on business.

Martin O'Connor, the silver-voiced comedian of Pleasant Ridge, paid a flying visit to town Tuesday.

Dave Brown was in to the dance and wedding. Taking notice, only.

Walter Spinks, formerly of Nanton, paid a visit to Gleichen last week looking for a location and is well satisfied.

The Gleichen Masons held the first meeting in their new hall in the Larkin block Tuesday evening and will shortly dedicate the hall. Those who should know state that the hall and furnishings rank among the best in this province.

Word was received Wednesday morning that Mr. Forty had died in the Calgary hospital, where he went a week ago quite ill. Word was sent on to his friend H. B. Biggs on Rosebud creek, where the unfortunate young man lived since his arrival from England last summer. The nature of his illness is not known here.

J. M. Telford had a narrow escape on Tuesday from drowning. He crossed the ice on the Bow river with a heavy load of coal and just as he reached the shore the ice gave away and sank over a foot. He advises all who cross the river to be very careful while the mild weather continues.

A dance will be given at Mr. Austin Brown's new house Friday night.
